NEW BRITAIN—

A former state trooper has been charged with prostitution and with helping her husband run a prostitution business.

Pearl Kelly-Paris, 43, was arrested Thursday after an 11-month investigation and charged with prostitution, second-degree promoting prostitution and second-degree conspiracy to promote prostitution, state police said. She retired from the state police in October 2010.

Kelly-Paris' husband, Jaykuan Paris, was arrested on Nov. 15 on a charge of second-degree promoting prostitution after an investigation by the Statewide Organized Crime Investigative Task Force of the state police.

According to the warrant for Jaykuan Paris' arrest, a 21-year-old witness who said she used to work as a prostitute for Jaykuan Paris told police he "prostituted girls from the Motel 6 and Super 8 Motel in Rocky Hill, CT."

The rooms were rented under his name or under Kelly-Paris' name, the warrant states.

Once, Paris met his wife to get a digital camera from her, the witness told investigators. Kelly-Paris arrived in full uniform in a patrol car, she claimed.

"Kelly-Paris took a digital camera from within her police cruiser and handed it to Paris," the warrant states.

Paris then used the camera to take pictures of the witness, another woman and Kelly-Paris "for purposes of posting prostitution advertisements on the Internet website 'Craigslis.org' and in newspaper advertisements for erotic services," the warrant states.

She also claimed that she saw Kelly-Paris and another woman "working as prostitutes for Paris at the Motel 6."

Jaykuan Paris was charged with first-degree forgery, first-degree larceny, disorderly conduct and third-degree assault in cases that date back to 2010.

Kelly-Paris, who was released on $50,000 bail, filed for divorce from Jaykuan Paris earlier this year, the records show. She owns a house on Kensington Avenue in New Britain, according to a city employee.

This could be coincidence, but Denis Paris is the ruthless pimp at the heart of another prostitution bust in Connecticut.

Could Jaykuan Paris be related to Denis Paris? Denis Paris used hotels on the Berlin Turnpike and in Hartford's north meadows as a base. Maybe I'm overthinking things here...
